

STATE RESTS ITS CASE AGAINST EX-CHIEF LENGEL

DEFENSE READY TO FILE MOTION FOR ACQUITTAL

Directed Verdict Sought On Grounds State Has Not Proved Charge

JUDGE STICKS TO FORMER RULING

Records of Former Trial Read by Prosecution And Defense

Lisbon, Feb. 20.—The state of Ohio rested its case against S. A. Lengel, former Canton police chief, indicted for first degree murder of Don R. Medlett, Canton publisher, at 11:25 a. m. Monday when court adjourned until 1 p. m.

Judge W. P. Barham of defense counsel announced that a number of motions would be prepared during the noon hour for introduction at the opening of court this afternoon.

One of these motions will be for a directed verdict of acquittal on the grounds that the state has failed to prove a charge of murder.

The only testimony offered by the state this morning was that of Lengel's cross-examination and James Smith's testimony at the former trial of Lengel.

A bitter legal battle is expected on a motion for a directed verdict.

Lones Sticks To Ruling

Judge W. P. Lones this morning adhered to the decision he handed down last Friday ruling out of the record in this case all of the testimony given at the former trial of S. A. Lengel by Floyd Streitenberger.

Immediately after court opened this morning, Prosecuting Attorney Harter filed a motion with the court for a re-ruling of the court on this question.

Mr. Harter, in arguing for a re-ruling, made references to several decisions he had set up during the two-day recess in the case and said that the situation is different in this case than in others cited by the authorities.

"The witness is in court but he refuses to testify," Harter said.

No Defense Argument

Counsel for the defendant Lengel made no argument to the court, following Harter, and the question was then up to the court for consideration.

He studied all the law covering this situation in the two cases referred to by the supreme court, and I felt that if I wrongfully excluded the testimony it should be corrected," the court said.

"I read all I could find including

BEAVERBROOK IS SENT TO PRISON

Man Famed As Juggler of Feminine Hearts Sentenced Today

New York, Feb. 20.—Stripped of his former nonchalance, Robert Whitman, alias Lord Beaverbrook, juggler of feminine hearts, today was sentenced to ten years in Sing Sing prison for grand larceny.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators, most of whom were women. Yet only one of Lord Beaverbrook's former loves was perceived among them. She was Mrs. Virginia Cameron Martin, Washington society matron, who married him in June, 1925, allegedly at an ultimatum.

He was given a blade of two continents must spend 15 years between stone walls, unless circumstances effect unforeseen changes.

In addition to the ten year term imposed today for appropriating to his own use $90,000 worth of jewels belonging to Mrs. Ross Burke, of New York, he must fulfill a five year sentence which has long been in abeyance.

Find Liquor Cache In Broadway Hotel

More Than Dozen Searches In Last Two Weeks Have Failed, But Chief and Aide Finally Find One Bottle In Well-Concealed Cache

The alleged cache of liquor, which has attained considerable fame at the Broadway hotel during the last several years, was discovered by Chief of Police T. W. Thompson and Patrolman Ralph Stoffer Saturday night after more than a dozen searches of the place in the last two weeks.

Ernest Arnde Santarelli, charged with possession of a bottle of white whiskey, is to be arraigned this afternoon before Mayor Phil Hiddesdon.

The officers went back into the alley of the hotel about 9 p. m. and saw several persons enter and leave the soft drink establishment on the north side of the building. Quickly the officers got into the place and ordered everyone to submit to a search.

No liquor was found on any of the persons in the room, so the officers decided that there must be a cache which, in the last several years, has withstood searches by city and state raiders on probably half a hundred occasions.

Stacked in a rear room were many cases of near beer bottles. The officers looked each case over and in the middle of a pile of innocent looking cases, they came upon one with a swinging door which was smooth and attracted attention.

Inside the case the officers say they found a bottle of liquor. The part of the door touched by a hand opening it was worn smooth, and police believe it has been in use for about four years.

Heretofore police believed the liquor was run into the place in very small quantities by a "messenger" or transporter, as needed, because the cache had never been found.

On one day, recently Thompson personally raided the place three times, and Stoffer has also been searching the stand every day or so.

At present, the alarm system is only in operation in the shop district. Boxes will be placed on Main and Broadway, and some of the larger buildings may be connected with the system by sub-boxes, if the owners take such steps. Such alarm system extension has been recommended many times by fire insurance underwriters and the Ohio inspection bureau.

RETAIL COST OF FOOD DECLINES

Drop of One-Half of One Percent Is Reported During January

Washington, Feb. 20.—The retail cost of food decreased in price slightly more than one-half of one per cent during January, a decrease of more than 2½ per cent since January, 1927, and an increase of 58 per cent since January, 1913, the department of labor announced today.

Mullins Given Million Dollar Contract

CONTROL BOARD WILL LET LIGHT AWARD MARCH 15

Fire Alarm System Will Be Extended Through Business District

STREET PAVING BIDS ARE SOUGHT

Perry, Vine and Goshen to Be Given Surfaces Of Sheet Asphalt

The board of control on March 15 will award the contracts for the construction of a municipal "white way" lighting system on Main st. and Broadway, extension of the automatic fire alarm system through the business district, new suspension of traffic signal lights, and the paving of Goshen ave., Perry and Vine streets.

Service Director Charles A. Cavanaugh is now advertising for bids for these improvements. All bids must be submitted before noon of Thursday, March 15. It is probable that the contracts will be awarded the afternoon of that day by the board of control, which consists of Mayor Phil Hiddesdon, Safety Director Rex W. Ruggie, and Cavanaugh.

Following the rejection by city council of an offer of the Pennsylvania-Olio Power & Light Co. to build and operate the white way system under a ten-year contract, Cavanaugh was instructed by council to proceed with the construction of a municipally owned and operated system.

Plans Prepared Year Ago

Plans under which the system will be built were drawn up by the late E. M. French, former city engineer. These plans were approved by council Feb. 15, 1927. It was almost a year from that date—Feb. 7—that the present council turned down the P-O offer and voted to go ahead with the previously made city plans.

The white way contract, when awarded will include the extension of the fire alarm system and suspension of the traffic lights. Cables for the lighting system, alarm system and traffic lights will be laid in the same trench.

At present, the alarm system is only in operation in the shop district. Boxes will be placed on Main and Broadway, and some of the larger buildings may be connected with the system by sub-boxes, if the owners take such steps. Such alarm system extension has been recommended many times by fire insurance underwriters and the Ohio inspection bureau.

GALES IN OHIO CAUSE 4 DEATHS

Motorists Blinded, Fires Fanned by Near-Blizzard in State

Cleveland, Feb. 20.—Cleveland and Northern Ohio today were in the grip of a cold wave, with the mercury hovering close to zero. The wind was blowing a gale this morning, driving snow before it, blinding motorists and pedestrians alike.

Four deaths here were attributed to the near-blizzard, two from exposure and two from traffic.

Fire department officials said there were more fire companies out at one period during the last 35 hours than at any time in the last 12 years.

Three extra-alarm fires, fanned by high winds and causing property damage of approximately $555,000, were recorded. The last of the three in a downtown four-story building, was the most disastrous, necessitating an eleven hour battle by 23 companies before being brought under control.

MANY FILE BIDS FOR NEW SCHOOL HOUSE CONTRACT

Bids Opened by Board of Education; Contract To Be Let Soon

Contracts for the construction of Salem's new grade school building, and for the plumbing, wiring and heating systems of that building, will be awarded at a special meeting of the board of education some day this week.

Eight general contract bids, ranging from $64,406 to $71,543; ten heating and ventilating bids; five plumbing bids and four wiring bids were opened by the board.

Due to the work of tabulating the various combinations and alternate bids, Architect C. F. Owsley, of Youngstown, advised another meeting for the awarding of the contracts.

Alternate bids made were those covering clauses, apart from the general work, which had to do with possible non-completion for the present of the second floor.

FORDS FACE NEW LELAND CHARGES

Pontiac, Mich., Feb. 20.—Charges that Henry and Edsel Ford are resorting to technicalities and themselves "perpetrating a fraud against 2,000 former stockholders of the old Lincoln Motor company instead of seeking a prompt trial to exculpate themselves of the wrongs alleged against them," were made in a brief filed today by counsel for Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland, who are suing the Fords for $6,000,000.

The suit is an action for "breach of faith" to recover the investment made by stockholders, whom the Leland charges Ford agreed to reimburse when he bought in the old Lincoln company in 1922 at a federal receivers sale for $8,000,000.

POLICE QUELL ANTI-FASCIST DETROIT RIOT

Down With Mussolini, Is Cry When Italian Envoy Arrives

CLUBS AND FISTS USED BY POLICE

Crowd of 300 Men, women Dispersed After Big Riot In Street

Detroit, Feb. 20.—Fists flew, clubs met skulls, "down with Mussolini" placards were broken over the heads of their bearers, women fainted and were trodden upon when police dispersed a crowd of 300 anti-Fascists who massed at the Union station today to greet with hoots and jeers, the arrival of his excellency, Baron Giacomo de Martini, personal representative of Il Duce and Italian ambassador to the United States.

Trouble began as Baron de Martini, surrounded by aides of Italian descent in the city, by department of justice agents, and police, came through the Ford street door of the station to the street.

"Down with Mussolini," went up the cry from 300 throats. Men and women were in the anti-Fascist throng which was massed in the streets.

Police Use Fists. Baron de Martini, in the Italian diplomatic service since 1891, looked on with graven image, like a spectator aloof, while the anti-Fascists were routed.

Police used mostly their fists. The protesters, men and women began to run. Police pursued them, arms swinging, clubs appearing here and there above the throng.

Several men gained the steps of the Ford street Presbyterian church and continued their cries of "down with Mussolini, down with Fascism" from there.

The last of the anti-Fascists finally disappeared, up alleys and down streets. Three were arrested on charges of disturbing the peace.

When the station demonstration subsided, Baron de Martini was escorted under heavy guard to the Brook-Cadillac, where he was visited by Mayor John C. Lodge. During the visit, several hundred police were stationed at entrances to the hotel.

These officers were augmented, shortly afterward, by others when his excellency was escorted to the city hall to repay the mayor's call. The same guard was in readiness to escort the ambassador to Dearborn for lunch with Edsel Ford.

TEACHING BECOMES ART

To the youngsters in Mount Kisco, N. Y., a loaf of bread is not merely something to eat; it is a vision. In it are seen the sower of the wheat, the miller who grinds it, the baker who bakes the flour, the baker who mixes it and the oven in which it is baked.

This may lead some of our readers to believe that these children are unusually imaginative, or perhaps are of exceptional mental caliber. Be assured, however, that they are youngsters such as may be found right here in Salem—or in any other community, for that matter—and, in fact, in every public school.

Well, may one ask "Is this a part of the regular curriculum in the schools of New York?" It is not.

The answer is that the school authorities of Mount Kisco availed themselves of the offer of the Westchester County Children's association to supply the means—teachers and equipment—to demonstrate that the problem of the school today is not merely how to teach, but what to teach.

Perhaps the outstanding accomplishment, apart from the school itself, as a result of the Mount Kisco experiment, is the spirit of co-operation that has been stimulated and put to practical use by the people of the community.

This experiment is unique in that it deals with children as they enter school. Some other schools throughout the country carry on a similar work, but with the more advanced pupils. The end sought by the demonstration at Mount Kisco is the adoption of a curriculum more adapted to the child and to discard the age-worn principle of adapting the child to the curriculum.

However fanciful this idea may have appeared at the outset, the demonstration is eminently satisfying to those interested in the education of children.

Educators everywhere tell us that it is a real problem nowadays to interest school children in anything other than the studies which are considered a vital part of the everyday curriculum. To interest them, even those of the more advanced classes, in anything of an extracurricular nature, is almost impossible for the reason that it may involve a little additional class room work.

How much simpler it would be to maintain the student interest throughout school life had that student begun the study of sciences in his, or her, early days in class. Arouse a child's interest at the beginning of its school career in things outside the covers of the speller and the arithmetic, and the chances are better than even that this interest will be maintained over a long period of years.

Educators have been casting about for years in an effort to stimulate interest in school work. Athletics were the answer for a time, but it soon became apparent that athletics were limited to the few. Who will say that the Mount Kisco experiment is not the solution for which our teachers have been searching?

What Others Say

THE INSANITY PLEA
At the Hickman trial we see a repetition of a farce which sooner or later the country will have to do something about. This is the leaving to a jury of the decision whether a defendant is sane or not. This practice, no doubt, had its origin when insanity was a simple matter that anybody could make up his mind about; when a defendant that is, was either a gibbering imbecile whose condition was apparent to all beholders, or was sane. But with the Thaw trial it was revealed to the legal world that there was such a thing as modern psychology; that a defendant might be sane so far as the average eye could see and still be insane to the eye of the paid alienist; that here was a defense which offered a sporting chance when any other defense was hopeless. So in the last 20 years it has been offered innumerable times, sometimes without any success, sometimes, as in the case of George Remus, with complete success.

Yet how can a jury form any opinion on so technical a question as mental disease? Even if it had the benefit of sound evidence it would be as helpless as if it tried to diagnose some physical disease. But it does not even have this. In the present case, as in most cases that are tried this way, the best it can do is make up his mind between two sets of alienists; both of them obviously biased in favor of their retaining fees. Thus it is in much the same position as it would occupy if it were asked to hear a chiropractor swear that the deceased suffered from a curvature of the spine, a chiropodist swear that he suffered from bunions, and then decide whether he died from the effects of a railroad accident.

What is needed, of course, is an extension of the principle that we have recognized in New York. Here, as soon as a plea of insanity is entered, the court may halt the trial and name an expert commission which is not in the pay of either side. This commission then examines the defendant. If it finds him insane, he is committed to an institution until he recovers his wits. If it finds him sane, the trial proceeds. Thus a technical question is decided by technicians, and we have a minimum of the kind of nonsense now being heard in California.—New York World.

FAR FROM BROKE
Statistics of British foreign investment as revealed by the board of trade indicate that England need not concern herself very seriously over the increasing activity of the United States in the field of international finance. Just at the close of the war when substantial British investments had been liquidated the impression was spread abroad that interest from foreign securities would no longer constitute an important source of income for that country.

But in 1926, it now appears, British income from investments abroad was more than a billion and a third dollars. That of the United States in the same year was less than half that amount. American investments in foreign countries have expanded more rapidly than those of England, but the latter country despite her alleged poverty has some $1,000,000,000 to invest in foreign enterprise.

This growing investment account is a fairly complete answer to the fear that England is approaching a state of business and financial ruin as a result of her huge surplus of merchandise imports. A nation with capacity for production sufficient to invest more than half a billion a year abroad need not worry very much about its immediate future.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 21.

No man can place a limit on his strength.
—Elton Wheeler Wilcox.

A day of vast opportunity and enterprise is presaged by the lunar as well as the solar aspects. There is an important change of journey and these may be manipulated to excellent advantage. In business, employment and in social and personal contacts all should thrive, but be on guard against fraud or misrepresentation.

Those whose birthday it is have an excellent year ahead, with some unexpected openings and changes—this in business as well as personal affairs. But care is necessary against fraud and subtlety. A child born on this day may have many talents and qualifications for success and progress, with a pleasant and prosperous life, but it should be alert to treachery and subtlety in all affairs.

5 LIVES TOLL OF DISASTER ON FERRYBOAT

San Francisco, Feb. 20.—Five lives, it was feared today, is the toll claimed by the strange mishap on the ferryboat Peralta last Friday night.

As the federal hearing to determine the cause of the near-disaster resumed mystery still cloaked the fate of two women and three men who are believed to have been passengers aboard the trans-bay ship when a huge wave swooped down upon her decks and caused panic in the ranks of some 4,000 homeward bound commuters.

After a penetrating check that included every known source of information these five names stood out as the list of the missing: Isabella Robertson, Oakland; Evelyn Kraft, Oakland; Hugh Findlay Berkeley; J. W. Collins, Oakland; Dan Parker, Oakland.

SCOUT COLUMN

Baptist Troop Five
Twenty-three scouts, four visitors, and three officials were present at the weekly meeting Friday evening. The patrols met in their various patrol corners, where they received papers with questions on. The opening ceremony was in charge of the senior patrol leader.

An interesting talk was given by Kenneth Jones, scoutmaster of Troop One. He told of Troop One's visit to the scout rally in Akron Thursday night. Artificial respiration was demonstrated by Patrol Leader Al Paxson.

Reports of the patrol meetings were then given. Senior Patrol Leader Win groves resigned his position as troop scribe and appointed Patrol Leader Al Paxson as his predecessor. The answers to the questions that were given to the scouts in their patrol corners were then given very satisfactorily.

After business Scoutmaster Talbot made announcements concerning the patrols. New patrol leaders were elected and the troop now has four patrols instead of three. The scouts elected as patrol leaders were Al Paxson, former patrol leader, Joe Bush, Purn Sidinger, and Daniel Holloway. They are leaders of the Eagle, Flying Eagle, Cocco and Stag patrols, respectively.

A talk was given by Troop Councilman R. C. Stirling concerning the troop cabin. A story by Patrol Leader Daniel Holloway ended the meeting. The next meeting will be held next Friday. It will be in charge of Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Fred Filler.

Food, Headaches and Air Are Related

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
Perhaps there is no ailment so common as headache. Never a day passes but some friend or acquaintance will say: "I have a terrible headache." There are few persons in the world who do not have an occasional headache.

There are many cases for headache. Perhaps the chief ones are indigestion in diet and late hours of course. There are other causes—eye-strain, over-fatigue and failure of elimination.

The lesson everybody should learn is how to eat and what to eat. To eat regularly, to eat simple food, and not to eat between meals, are pieces of advice which it should be unnecessary to give to sane and sensible people. But, it is hardly worth while to give this advice because the temptation of appetite is too strong for the average person. The advice is always well received and invariably agreed to but it is straightway forgotten or disregarded.

A little while ago I asked a charming lady what she thought was the cause of her headache. Her reply was that in order to get plumper she has been eating richer food. Upon hearing this answer I looked at her critically and made up my mind that she was not breathing deeply enough and the system was not getting sufficient oxygen to take care of this added foods.

There is an intimate relationship between the intake of food and the necessity for oxygen. You can see why this is so. The fire in the furnace will not burn without oxygen. Why should you expect the fuel of the body, which is the food we take, to burn or oxidize as we call it, unless there is an ample supply of oxygen? Deep breathing and regularly in the intake of air should accompany the eating of increased quantities of food.

My fine young friend must expect to have her system burdened and possibly considerably disturbed if she materially increased her intake of food without, at the same time giving herself an extra supply of pure air.

Today I have dealt with but one sort of headache. On another occasion we will discuss other forms. I do want to say this in conclusion, however, that you should not disregard a headache which persists, or a headache which occurs every two or three days. There is some underlying cause for this headache and it should be discovered.

I have no desire to alarm you, of course, but don't permit yourself to suffer with headache when by a little study and the practice of a few simple rules you may overcome this uncomfortable ailment.

HAVANA PARLEY NEARING CLOSE

Peace and Amity Seen As Tangible Evidence Of Its Sessions

Havana, Feb. 20.—With the United States delegation highly pleased with the results, among which are included four positive important achievements of the conference as a whole, the sixth Pan-American conference, embarked upon its final session today.

Although some bitterness on the part of several Latin-American states was obvious and expected, the conference began its last day with peace and amity as definite, tangible evidence of its sessions which, during the course of the gathering, have surged from routine dullness to meetings surcharged with fiery oratory and diplomatic brilliance.

The question of intervention, regarded from the outset as a fire-cracker with fuse split, has been shelved for further discussion. Among other less conspicuous but highly important achievements of the conference these four stood out today as paramount.

1.—The declaration for obligatory arbitration and the agreement to meet in Washington for the negotiation of a general treaty.

2.—The adoption of a Pan-American aviation treaty.

3.—The great strengthening of the Pan-American union by putting it on a firm basis as a non-political agency of continental solidarity.

4.—Important steps forward in the codification of international law.

The plenary session today was expected to ratify the projects of arbitration and the Pan-American union.

Night Club, Short Story By Katharine Brush, Is Chosen Among 15 O. Henry Awards

During the nine year that the Society of Arts and Sciences has sponsored the O. Henry Memorial Award Prize Stories the collection has come to be regarded as an authoritative appraisal of the short story work of the year. The 1927 edition, just published by Doubleday, Doran & Co., is especially rich in material.

Fifteen stories were culled from more than 600 considered and are presented by the judges as the finest American stories appearing during the past 12 months. Roark Bradford's "Child of God" was voted the first prize, with "The Killers" by Ernest Hemingway, ranking next. Louis Bromfield was awarded the special prize for the best short story of 1927 with the "Scarlet Woman."

Other stories selected for the book are: "Jukes," by Bill Adams; "Fear," by James Warner Bellah; "Night Club," by Katharine Brush; "Sinsua Woman," by Ada Jack Carver; "With Glory and Honour," by Elizabeth Cobb Chapman; "Build-dog," by Roger Daniels; "He Man," by Marjory Stoneman Douglas; "Done Got Over," by Alma and Paul Ellerbe; "Monkey Motions," by Eleanor Mercein Kelly; "Four Dreams of Gram Perkins," by Ruth Sawyer; "The Little Girl From Town," by Ruth Suckow, and "Shades of George Sand," by Ellen du Bois Taylor.

The stories of the collection almost without exception are strong and serious, practically devoid of humor. It is significant that from the wave of war stories which now floods the magazines only "Fear" was chosen. This, however, is such a powerful tale that it would be hard to find its equal. The theme of "Fear" and of "He Man" is that fear vanishes when courage is demanded, regardless of a man's cowardice in moments of safety.

Four negro stories are included in the 15, all sympathetic interpretations of the southern country darkey. "Jukes" is a man who could conquer everything but the drink habit. Katharine Brush and Elizabeth Cobb Chapman chose night clubs as the settings for their stories with admirable results. "Four Dreams of Gram Perkins" and "Sinsua Woman" are highly localized tales, the former about Maine farmer folk, while Miss Carver's story deals with customs of the French mulattoes of Isle Brevelle.

Ernest Hemingway's "The Killers" said to be "the most talked about story of 1927," is told almost entirely in dialogue. A gripping, dramatic situation is pictured in the most commonplace words. Two gunmen are waiting for their victim. He has heard of it so on that particular night they do not get him. But they know, and he knows that some other time they will succeed. Miss Suckow utilizes the same type of writing to describe a city child's visit to a farm in "The Little Girl From Town." "Shades of George Sand" tells of the reactions of a girl descended from a French coquette, to the monotony of her drab North Dakota home.

In the "Scarlet Woman" Louis Bromfield has told of a great love, a thing of beauty in which the town could see only sin. In less than nine pages Vergie Winters' life is reconstructed by means of fragments, scraps of information that all the town knew, though not once does the author force her to break through her "colossal solitude" to speak for herself. It is a delicate, tragic little story, told with stark simplicity.

NEW EVIDENCE

INTERNATIONAL NEWS. Prosecutor Henry W. Barker Jr. of Stark county, asserted he had uncovered new evidence since Canton's police chief's first trial.

CONSTIPATION IS OFTEN UNDETECTED

Even Regular Bowel Movements May Not Be Enough

90% of modern city people are victims of constipation. Some know what is wrong, because their bowel movements are irregular. Others have the same symptoms, but, because their bowel movements are regular, do not know they suffer from intestinal poisoning. In these cases the movements, although regular, are not complete, and decayed material remains in the intestine to poison the entire system.

In either case the results are bad. Headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, increased susceptibility to serious diseases which may result in premature disability or death—all come from constipation caused by modern soft diet and soft life.

The remedy is simple. Add bulk and roughage to your diet—it kept primitive man healthy, and it will do the same for you. Don't form the dangerous laxative habit—use roughage, the natural cure. The best kind is the true 100% bran, Pillsbury's Health Bran. It furnishes the bulk which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get natural 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is unadulterated, uncooked and unsweetened, it really does the work—it gives you the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods, muffins, tea-cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc. That's the way to eat bran—your own home baking does not crumble it and reduce its laxative value.

Eat it three times a day—delightful recipes are printed on every package.

Lindbergh To Shun Big Receptions On Mail Route Today

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Civil organizations and society leaders were "tipped off" today that it would probably be useless to plan any large affairs in honor of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is scheduled to arrive here this evening in his old capacity of St. Louis-to-Chicago airmail pilot.

Lindbergh, it was said, has expressed a desire for simplicity, which was taken to mean that he will prefer to share the humble fare and modest sleeping quarters of the other mail flyers.

The famous aviator, who is scheduled to make one round trip over his old route, will leave St. Louis at 4:15 this afternoon. He is scheduled to arrive in Chicago at 7:15 p. m. in his plane and five others, manned by his former buddies in the service, will be packed with mail.

The return trip will be made tomorrow.

It was just about this time last year that Lindbergh then an obscure airmail pilot, quit his job to prepare for his epochal New York to Paris flight.

WILLIS-HOOVER FIGHT LULLS AS OHIOANS AWAIT

Willis Announces List Of Delegates-At-Large; Goes To Capital

Columbus, Feb. 20.—Ohio voters today awaited the answer to the question whether U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis or Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, or both, will qualify for a statewide preferential vote in the April presidential primaries.

Leaders at Willis and Hoover state headquarters today stated that no decision had been reached.

There was a lull today in activities at Willis headquarters. Senator Willis returned to Washington, D. C., last night. Col. Carmi A. Thompson, directing the Willis campaign, it was said, was in Cleveland and Charles A. Jones, the senator's private secretary who has been busy at state headquarters, was reported confined to his home suffering from a cold.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Walter F. Brown and former Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, directing the Hoover campaign in the Buckeye state, resumed their conferences today, behind closed doors, making final preparations for filing with the secretary of state declarations of candidacy of Hoover supporters for delegates and alternates to the Republican national convention.

Willis Delegates

Candidates supporting Willis will not file their declarations until next Friday—the final day, it was announced at Willis headquarters.

Sensor Willis, just before leaving Columbus, announced that the list of Willis candidates for delegates-at-large will include Mrs. Wilma Sinclair Levan, Steubenville, Republican national committeewoman from Ohio and president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs; U. S. Senator Simon D. Fess, Yellow Springs; Col. Carmi Thompson, and E. W. Edwards, Cincinnati manufacturer.

Announcement was made at Hoover headquarters that Mrs. Hugh Clark Steubenville, is one of the Hoover candidates for delegates-at-large. Mrs. Clark, it was stated, is a former member of the state board of pardons and paroles, former head of the state division of charities and a former vice president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

LENDEL CASE

those decisions in the American Law Reporter of all such cases cited. There is a ground of distinction. The constitution provides the defendant shall meet the witness face to face. Decisions outside of Ohio are conflicting.

"The witness referred to in this case is not absent, insane or dead. I would like to admit this evidence but the state is unfortunate in that the defendant has met the witness and the witness has refused to talk. Counsel only consider their respective side. The court considers both sides. Would it be just to the defendant to admit this testimony? In some cases it might. There is no chance for cross-examination. It would be an injustice to the defense to admit it as the witness refuses to testify. You must remember that the defendant is charged with murder in the first degree. No authority has been cited to the court where testimony of this character can be received in a case of this kind.

"The state is put at a disadvantage which is the fault of nobody connected with the prosecution. In the light of all the supreme court rulings I am compelled to adhere to my ruling of last Friday."

The jury was then summoned into the jury box and the state continued its case by calling Miss Florence Travis, state court reporter, who was the last witness on the stand last Friday.

She was called for the purpose of verifying the record of the Pat McCormick, Floyd Strotenberger and Red Rudner cases. The prosecution sought to get this testimony into the record directly, but was prevented by the defense objections, which the court sustained.

Harter then dictated to Miss Alice Glenn, court reporter, for the record in this case, what the witness would have said had she been permitted to testify.

Record Is Read

Harter then attempted to introduce by the same witness the cross examination of Lengel at the former trial. This was permitted by the court and through an arrangement among counsel cross examination of the defendant in his former trial was read from a typewritten record.

By the same witness a part of the testimony of James Smith, Canton merchant policeman, who testified he saw Lengel at the Rudner store in Massillon, was read by Harter.

Hahn continued to read from the same record three or four questions and answers put to Smith showing that he heard no private conversation between Lengel and Rudner.

Final Arguments In Sinclair Case

Washington, Feb. 20.—Final arguments in the contempt trial of Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and two associates were begun in District of Columbia supreme court today. Five hours were allotted to each side.

Justice Siddons said he would withhold, until arguments are completed, a decision on the defense motion to dismiss the charges.

COLORADO MINE STRIKE ENDED

Denver, Feb. 20.—The Colorado coal miners' strike came to an end today following tabulation of a state wide vote among the strikers. Eighty-eight per cent of the miners favored a return to work.

This brings to an end one of the most disastrous strikes Colorado has known. Since the walkout was instigated Oct. 18, 1927, eight men have been killed in clashes at the Columbine mine in Northern Colorado and at Walsenburg in the southern field.

CONTROL BOARD

Entire cost of the alarm system extension and equipment for re-hanging the traffic lights will be borne by the city.

Street Paving

The three streets which will be paved this summer will have a top surface of sheet asphalt. Vine st. will be paved from McKinley to High. Perry will be paved from Broadway to Lincoln. Gashen from Jennings to Tenth st.

Paving of these streets was planned more than a year ago, but work had to be held up in the summer and fall of 1927 due to the mix-up over the Etna st. sewer bonds, now a matter of history.

Gashen paving will complete the link in the pavement which will run from Roseville ave. to the Glenwood rd. At present the pavement ends at the end of Jennings, leaving a rough dirt street to Tenth. Perry st. will take much motor traffic from Franklin and give a short cut to the shop district from the south side of the city.

Vine st. paving means another paved entry into the north side from McKinley ave. At the present time from Garfield east to the city limits there are but two paved streets running north, Hawley and Highland.

Markets

MARKET IRREGULAR

New York, Feb. 20.—Irregularity, with a tendency to lower prices, featured the industrial stock list at the opening of the market today.

The rails were steady, with Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and New Haven fractionally higher. United States Steel and General Motors recovered 1/4 each, at 140 1/4 and 134 1/4, respectively.

Baldwin lost 2 points at 243; International Nickel was down 1/2 at 3; Radio down 1/2 at 87 1/2; American Can down 1/4 at 73 1/4; Collins and Airman down 1/4 at 87 1/2; Allied Chemical up 1/4 at 147 1/4; Sears Roebuck up 1/4 at 85 1/4; Texas Gulf Sulphur up 1/4 at 69 1/2; Mack Trucks up 1/4 at 98 1/2; Vanadium up 1/4 at 78 1/2.

After an irregular opening, in which losses and gains in the speculative industrials were about evenly divided, moderate recoveries were recorded in the active stocks in the first period today. Last week's drastic decline of the over-bullied specialties naturally encouraged the building up of an extensive short account, covering of which was reflected in good buying demand of Greene, Cananea, International Nickel, Freeport Texas and other well known specialties.

There were few if any important developments in business and industry, and little to choose from in the way of promising prospects in domestic trade. January deliveries of automobiles was considerably above expectations, and a number of the large manufacturers report a large influx of new orders. Offerings of stock generally known as "distress selling" were not as heavy as in last week's closing session, and professionals were more inclined to cover shorts than to add to their short commitments in the so-called poor pets. Call money renewal rates opened at 4 1/2 per cent, with funds on a good supply.

Greene Cananea and Vanadium jumped about 7 points each, leading a sharp rally in the speculative specialties in the first half hour. Recoveries of 1 to 3 points were scored by Freeport Texas, Radio, International Nickel, Gold Dust, Montgomery Ward and other trading favorites. The New York city gas stocks snapped back into position, and even the oil stocks exhibited moderate rallying power. The motor stocks recovered the bulk of last week's losses, with Studebaker, Nash and Packard leading the rally.

The upward trend in cotton gained headway in the first hour, with prices about 15 points higher. Wheat sold fractionally higher, corn practically unchanged.

PROBE OPERATION OF MASSILLON HOSPITAL

Husband Whose Wife Dies Filed Complaint And Governor Acts

Columbus, Feb. 20.—Gov. Vic Donahey today started an investigation of the operation of the Massillon hospital, after receiving a letter from the husband of a woman who died there, complaining of "loose" and improper methods marked the operation of the Massillon state hospital.

The governor's action was in response to a letter recently sent to the governor by State Treasurer B. B. Buckley who stated that O. F. Purviance, of Weems, Jefferson county, complained that he had not been informed of the death of his wife, Mary W. Purviance, at the Massillon hospital, until four days after she died.

The governor stated that he has asked Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, superintendent of the Massillon hospital, and J. A. Ridgeley, Smithfield undertaker, employed by Purviance, to submit reports dealing with the complaint made by Purviance.

Purviance, Buckley told Donahey, wrote that he was notified on February 11, last, that his wife a patient at the Massillon hospital, died on the preceding night—February 10. A Massillon undertaker, it was stated, was instructed by Undertaker Ridgeley to embalm the body of Mrs. Purviance, but found the corpse was in such a state of decomposition that it was unrecognizable, according to Buckley's letter to the governor.

The Massillon undertaker also was credited with declaring that Mrs. Purviance died on February 9. Purviance felt he should have been notified promptly of his wife's death.

JURY SELECTED IN NEW TRIAL FOR HICKMAN

Los Angeles, Feb. 20.—Taking of testimony in the trial of William Edward Hickman and his former accomplice, Welby Hunt, on charges of murdering C. Ivy Thomas, was expected to begin today, following announcement by Hickman's attorneys that the present tentative jury is acceptable to them.

Unless Hunt's attorneys exercise any more of their peremptory challenges, it is probable that witnesses will begin taking the stand today. After three days of questioning and cross-questioning of veniremen final selection of the jury to sit in judgment on the youthful pair seemed definitely in prospect.

Already under sentence of death for the slaying of Marion Parker an attitude of indifference toward the outcome of his second murder trial had been adopted by Hickman. He is reported to have told his attorneys that he has no fears of being hanged.

SAYS KLAN HEAD URGED WHIPPING TO STIR ACTION

Former South Bend grand Cyclops Gives Testimony In Trial

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—That the national organization of the Ku Klux Klan urged that whipping and tar and feather parties be used to revive interest in the dying St. Joseph county Klan was alleged here today by Pat Emmons of South Bend, former exalted cyclops of South Bend, Ind.

Emmons made the charge during a deposition hearing held by Attorney General Arthur L. Gillen in his office at the state house for use in his suit to cast the Klan from Indiana.

The recommendation for drastic terrorism came through a national representative whose name was Sirman, according to the testimony of Emmons.

"You ought to take somebody around this Roman Catholic city of South Bend, whip them, tar and feather them and then you would see the members joining fast. It takes a demonstration to shake up the Protestant people."

Political Accounts
After Emmons and other South Bend Klansmen had vigorously opposed the proposal Emmons said that the national representative called him "weak kneed and yellow."

Emmons said that W. Lee Smith, former grand dragon of the Indiana Klan, had outlined with him a program through which the Klan would control everything from local to national political affairs. When the South Bend Klansmen protested because they were forced to pay a per capita tax to the national Klan of $2.70 a year, Emmons said that Smith explained that much of this sum was used to achieve the political ambitions of the hooded order.

When pressed for an accounting Smith according to Emmons said: "There is a lot of money being spent that we don't care to account for. You have been in politics yourself. You know how it is."

A. Attorney General Gillen turned his legal search light into the mysterious Klan realm, objections were showered by Charles J. Orblison, the Klan national lecturer and the attorney representing the Klan at the deposition hearing.

The Klan has sunk from a high water mark of 178,000 members in Indiana to a paid up membership today of "less than 4,000," according to Emmons' testimony.

Quality Is Our Failure Insurance

A successful merchant once said that he considered honesty the greatest single factor for success in retailing. "Build integrity into your business," he advised, "and you not only safeguard it but your contribution to the community you live in is immeasurable."

Wise words! And that is one of the reasons why we pay so much attention to the quality of the goods we sell. It is so easy to skimp on a lining, or substitute inferior leather in the inner sole of a shoe. But then we would not be running an honest business, and it would gradually crumble into ruins.

Selling honest merchandise at a fair price is more than an ideal with us. It is our "insurance policy" against failure.

FEDERAL RADIO COMMISSION IS READY TO QUIT

Members Say Legislation Has Been Turned Into Political Football

PREPARING TODAY TO RETURN HOME

Hoover To Become Radio Czar March 15 Unless Board Is Extended

Washington, Feb. 20.—Taking the view that radio legislation has been turned into a political football, the federal radio commission virtually has ceased to function and its members are preparing to return to their homes, it was learned today.

Unless developments within the next few days indicate there is a probability of prompt action in the house on the resolution to extend the life of the commission another year, the commission is ready to drop its job.

Letters indicating that the commission has despaired of accomplishing its plan to stabilize broadcasting by further reallocations of frequencies and elimination of surplus stations have been written by members to a number of senators.

Life Is Doubtful
Unconfirmed commissioners question whether the life of the commission will be extended and consider their confirmation as doubtful. Commissioners Harold A. LaFount of Salt Lake City, and O. H. Caldwell of New York, already have made plans to leave the city, it was reported.

There is a rising demand, on one side, for elimination of many stations.

On the other hand strong influence has been brought to bear upon the commission on behalf of the stations to keep them on the air. A decision in either direction probably would mean trouble politically.

Call On Hoover
Hoover, as a leading candidate, would be called upon to establish a policy of use of the broadcasting stations for political purposes. Even with the comparatively limited use of radio for political talk in 1924 some candidates charged that they were being discriminated against.

Radio in this campaign will be one of the chief mediums for parties and candidates to reach the public. The law provides that broadcasters shall give all candidates equal opportunity for use of station facilities for political speeches.

ALLEGED I. W. W. MEMBER HELD FOR CONTEMPT

Columbus, Feb. 20.—Anthony Minerich, alleged I. W. W. member is in Franklin county jail here today, awaiting hearing, according to the U. S. marshal, for contempt of the federal injunction issued for protection of coal mine workers in southern and southeastern Ohio.

Minerich was arrested in Lansing, Belmont county, late Saturday by United States Deputy Marshal R. A. Noble and brought here.

According to Noble, Minerich has been giving speeches at Coal Grove and other southern Ohio towns, in direct violation of the federal injunction. He has been trying to incite riots against the operators and non-union coal miners, Noble charged.

The offense of contempt of federal court does not give Minerich the right of a trial by jury.

Minerich is also said to be a member of the Ohio Pennsylvania Miners' Relief association. He carries a U. M. W. of A. card.

Bucyrus Man Fires Gun at Spouse In Bed, Chases Her Out In Snow

Bucyrus, Feb. 20.—Mrs. Victoria Iiams is in Monet hospital here today with a bullet wound in her arm and suffering from exposure, while her husband, John Iiams, is a prisoner in the county jail.

According to the woman's story to the sheriff, she was awakened early this morning when her husband snored at her as she lay in bed. Jumping from bed, she said she fled from the house in her night clothes with her husband in pursuit. A quarter mile from their farm home, the report said, Mrs. Iiams fell in the deep snow and begged her husband not to fire.

"I've just got to, Victoria," she said he replied. After the bullet struck, Mrs. Iiams said, she dragged herself to the house of a neighbor a half mile from their home, while her husband departed in the direction of their home.

Later Iiams came to Bucyrus and surrendered after engaging an attorney. Authorities said he told of having quarreled with his wife over financial matters.

Police Benefit Boxing Show Will Be Staged Here March 7th

SERGT. FAY WILL MEET KETCHELL IN TEN ROUNDS

Matt Bramson, Cleveland Promoter, To Arrange Card For Salem

3 PRELIMINARIES ON NIGHT'S CARD

Sergeant Fay Comes With A Record of Sixteen Wins In Row

Preliminary plans for a police benefit boxing show here March 7 were announced today.

The show will be staged by Matt Bramson, Cleveland promoter and boxing manager, in conjunction with the Salem police department. Proceeds of the department's end of the year will be used to purchase new uniforms for the officers and men of the department.

It is probable that the Memorial building gym will be the scene of the show. Bramson expects to make final arrangements this week. Sergeant Fay, of E. Raleigh, Kan., a welterweight boxer of some prominence who has won 16 bouts in a row, nine by the knockout, will meet Stanley Ketchell or some other good welter in the main go of 10 rounds.

Three preliminary bouts of six rounds each will make up the balance of the card. In each bout Bramson will have two boys who have reputations and will give a good account of themselves. "Fighters who fight" is the motto of this promoter.

Has Great Record

Fay, the main attraction of the evening, will come here with a great record. In 19 fights he has won 17 and lost two by bare margins. The soldier boy does not know what it is to kiss the canvas and around the middle-west he is in much demand.

On Feb. 1, Fay fought in Ashland and made such a good showing that the Veterans of Foreign Wars, under whose auspices the bout was staged, have asked for a return exhibition by the Kansas terror.

Mayor Phil Hiddleston has given his approval for the benefit show, and he will serve on the committee which consists of Safety Director Rex Ruggy, Chief T. W. Thompson and others who will be added later.

It will be the first fight show in over three years, and the police believe the fans are ready for some bouts of real action.

Members of the fire department secure uniforms by means of an annual benefit ball. Policemen have had no media for funds for this purpose, so have decided to stage the boxing show. The city does not buy uniforms for either of the departments.

CLEVELAND EAST FAILS IN RALLY

Salem Jugenbunds Nose Out Visitors, 35-31, Saturday Night

A crushing offense in the first half gave the Salem Jugenbund team just the advantage needed to defeat Cleveland East Germans, 35 to 31, in a Penn-Ohio German league game Saturday night at the Memorial building. Salem led at the quarter, 10 to 8, but held Cleveland scoreless in the second period while making six goals. This made the half score 22 to 8.

It was fortunate for Salem that this long lead was established, because the Clevelanders came back with a changed lineup in the second half and outscored Salem in two periods.

Henry and Herbert Schuller, sub forwards, held the Jugenbunds to three points in the third quarter. Cleveland, at the same time making seven. The East quintet outplayed Salem again in the fourth quarter, getting 16 points to Salem's ten, but could not make sufficient goals to win out.

Hahn and Filp got 10 points but the Cleveland five held the rest of the Salem players down to a few points apiece.

Salem goes to Youngstown next Saturday.

KENT BOWS TO SALEM CAGERS IN FAST GAME

Red and Black Flashes Its Best Form To Hand Class B Champs of 1927 a 38-21 Defeat To Square Matters; Reserves Down Newell

Playing in a manner strongly reminiscent of last season's history making team, the Big Red of Salem High trounced Kent State High 38 to 21, in one of the best played games of the year Saturday night in the High school gym.

Teamwork saturated with brilliance and an impregnable defense brought to Coach Wilbur Springer's team revenge for the 30 to 23 defeat handed out by Kent on the latter's floor in a pre-season contest.

Coach Walt Wiffler's Black varsity took Wells High of Newell, W. Va., into camp to the tune of 25 to 13 in the prelim.

The Big Red now holds victories over both of last year's Ohio champion teams, Dover and Kent State. Dover was just nosed out, but the Blue and White passers were outplayed completely in every department of Saturday night's exhibition.

Steady, Methodical Game

Salem played a steady, methodical game, scoring ten points in each quarter except the third, when eight points were chalked up. This constant offensive play, starting with the jumps of Whinnery, center, to the guards and then to the forwards spun the web of defeat about the Class B. champs of 1927 in a secure and extremely praiseworthy manner.

Capt. Allen and Litty, even, on points with 16 each, led the attack on Kent. The team used a style of play in which marvelous passing on the dead run, and criss-cross work just under the basket which baffled Kent throughout the game, combined to get the points with certainty.

This teamwork of the kind which gave Salem its fame of last year, flashed just as brilliantly on the defense. The offensive tide would turn quick as wink on a lost ball, into a man to man defense which on three occasions took Kent three minutes each to work the ball three feet past the center of the floor.

Once this stonewall was leaped by Kent, Johnson one of last year's stars got away in the last quarter for a brace of goals, but this brief interval of scoring was all that Kent could boast of in the way of outstanding play.

Whinnery's Work Sparkles

Salem led at the end of the first quarter, 10 to 3. Kent scored first, but the Salem five began its pillage when two minutes had expired, and from then on had the situation under the hand of a master.

State spurted for a minute in the second period, but Salem maintained its steady offensive game, the half ending 20 to 10. Kent was smothered in the third quarter, which ended 28 to 12. Allen went out in the last quarter on personals and Kent took an interval of scoring, but this failed to toss a scare into the Red Camp and the Springer men again took command.

Whinnery's center work sparkled. He did not make a point, but that was not his job. He outjumped his opponent and played a bang-up defensive game. A sophomore, he has shown up better in each game.

The guards played their part in the night's drama, which also was that of passing and defense. They held Van Ulsen, the luminary of the Columbus B. tourney last spring to a single goal.

The Black varsity did not give Newell a point in the first half of the prelim, managing at the same

STUBTOWN TEAM OF COLLEGIANS WILL PLAY HERE

Steubenville Will Invade Mullins Floor Tuesday Evening

Mullins independent basketball team, losers in two hard fought battles last week, will try to get back into the winning column Tuesday night in the High school gym when the body makers clash with the McCauslen Florists of Steubenville, central states independent tourney champs of last year.

The Stubbers have a team made up entirely of former college stars all of whom have performed in the tri-state district for several years. J. E. Hart, former manager of the East Chicago (Ind.) Nationals, a noted professional team of the Chicago district, is coach of the McCauslens. Under his leadership the team won 18 and lost seven last season.

Ellis W. J. Smith of Akron University, Brown of Ohio Northern, Bowers of Carnegie Tech and Hinkle, Bellefonte, will start the game. Several other ex-collegians are on the squad.

Coach Sam Watkins will start a new combination tomorrow night. Fans here probably have seen the last of Red Matticks, who has been captain of the team this year, for Red quit cold after the Noddies game Friday and said he did not expect to play with Mullins again, according to A. V. Witt of the Mullins management.

New Line Up

George Wilcoxon and Russell Reese will be at the forwards; Johnny Hawkins will jump center instead of Matticks; Harry Vogel and Les Older will be at the guards. This combination should play well together.

Hawkins is not quite as lanky as Matticks, and if the McCauslens bring an extra-tall jumper, Shorty Whitacre, utility man, will take John's place. Whitacre stands 6'6" in his bare feet.

The absence of Wilcoxon last week was very serious, and possibly kept down the Salem score many points. He is coach at Alliance High and can't get away every week, but plays here every available game. He expects to be in uniform Tuesday as his team does not play until Wednesday.

The Studebakers and East Liverpool Elks will meet in the prelim. Liverpool won the first half title and licked Salem in both games that half.

HAHN DEFEATED BY RAY CONGER

String of 31 Victories Broken; Claims Conger Elbowed Him

New York, Feb. 20.—Lloyd Hahn, whose unbroken string of 31 victories was snapped by Ray Conger in Kansas City on Saturday night, will attempt to start another winning streak at the annual New York A. C. games here tonight.

Hahn will run in the Baxter mile in an effort to capture his second leg on the trophy. He will compete against Sidney Robinson, of Mississippi; Willie Sullivan, formerly of Georgetown; and J. J. Elliot of North Carolina, hailed as the south's best miler.

Conger's victory over Hahn at Kansas City, in which the Iowa star stepped 1,000 yards in the amazing time of 2 minutes and 11 seconds, clipping 1 4-5 seconds from Hahn's indoor record, was the leading topic of conversation among track enthusiasts here today. While some declared that there must have been an error in the distance or timing, the great majority hailed Conger as a great Olympic prospect. Conger has also defeated Dr. Peltzer, the German ace.

Hahn, who finished the race in a walk, declaring Conger had "elbowed" him 50 yards from the tape said after the race that he would never compete against Conger again. Hahn, Conger and Peltzer are entered in the mile event at the Knights of Columbus games next week.

CADETS GIVE SCOUT TROOP 37-14 PASTING

The Cadets gave Troop 3 a 37 to 14 pasting in a junior cage game at the Memorial building Saturday.

Real Friendship Between Salem and Kent State Highs

Salem and Kent State Highs have struck up a real friendship which reaches beyond sports.

A brotherly feeling existed throughout the Saturday night game and good plays of both teams brought cheers from each side for the other.

Kent remembers the Akron and Columbus tournaments last year when Salem fans pulled for them. Kent, in turn, rooted hard for Salem at both meets, and felt it keenly when Salem went down before Toledo Waite.

"We stood practically alone at Akron, some of our own townspeople rooting against us, but Salem fans stuck with us throughout, and we sure think a lot of Salem," said on Kent official.

GIRLS WIN EASY GAME AT LISBON

Salem High Girls handed Lisbon High Girls their second consecutive pasting Saturday night at Lisbon, 21 to 6.

The game was just as one-sided in play as the contest here between the two teams about a week ago, which ended in a 47 to 12 score.

Salem grabbed a 5 to 0 lead in the opening quarter, and held a 9 to 1 advantage at the half. The Red and Black ran away in the third quarter, making the score 20 to 3, but slowed down in the final period, making but one point.

Forward Kent made seven points; Zeile, sub forward six. Capt. Hassey, forward and Center Riddle each four. Zeller, sub center, Barnes, Beck, Moss, Buck and Deball, at the guards, made up the rest of the squad.

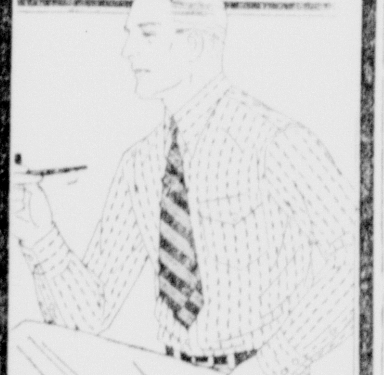

The game was played at the Rollaway before a large crowd.

NEWELL CLAIMS PLUCKY SMALL SCHOOL TEAM

The pluckiest small school team in this section is Newell, W. Va. It was learned Saturday night that Newell's apparent lack of practice is due to an unfortunate condition existing in the pottery town. Newell has no gym. Practice is held in one of the basement rooms. No games can be played in Newell for the town has no floor so every game has to be played "on the road."

The potters and their coach deserve plenty of applause for doing all they can in the face of a hard luck situation.

McLARNIN WILL MAKE SID STEP

But Slashing Fight With Terris Will Find Wellcome In N. York

New York, Feb. 20.—Tex Rickard's clients are expressing a decided preference for those bold bad young men from the wide open spaces.

They donated close to $80,000 last week to see Ace Hudkins take batting practice on the person of Sergeant Sammy Baker.

Next Friday they may pay even more to witness the first metropolitan appearance of James Archibald McLarnin, the little man with the baby face and the adult sock.

Hudkins dedicated his last fight to Lincoln, Neb., and McLarnin will take his first bow as a Pacific coast curly in the lightweight situation which has degenerated from a scramble to a lazy merry-go-round by Sammy Mandell's various challenges.

McLarnin is to engage Sid Terris, who is our leading eastern lightweight. Jimmy's advent has been heralded by his own fists. He has a knockout over Kid Kaplan and a decision over Billy Wallace to show for his two starts in the middle west. In the Kaplan fight he got up from the floor to win.

A fighter with those habits may be sure of a warm welcome here. The garden customers have registered their disapproval of the maulers, tappers and clinchers by staying away from some of Mr. Rickard's knuckle parties that could almost be guaranteed absolutely free from knockdowns.

MOVIES

"THE JOY GIRL"
Olive Borden has the leading role in "The Joy Girl" at the State. The story tells of a poor girl who aspired to wealth and position at almost any cost. A bit of a snob, in her young ignorance, she deliberately sought after rich men. But, thanks to innate fineness and a lucky stroke, it turns out that a certain young chauffeur in whom she is really interested, is actually Prince Charming in disguise. Dwan presents the brilliance of New York and Palm Beach in a series of remarkable shots for which he took the entire company to the scenes. While there is none of the exaggerated splendor that sometimes accompanies pictures of society, nothing of the real luxury is omitted. Aside from being a picture that defends modern youth, "The Joy Girl" also is an argument for realism on the screen, which is something for which Allan Dwan has long been noted. Neil Hamilton plays the leading masculine role as the wealthy young scion posing as a chauffeur. Other well known names in the cast are

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwiniski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better. Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman." With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good. Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"THE HEART THIEF"
Joseph Schildkraut, known as the screen's most romantic lover, and Lya de Putti, famous Hungarian actress, who won renown by her beauty and artistry in "Variety," are ardent sweethearts in a new Metro-politan picture, "The Heart Thief," which will be on view at the Grand tonight. Robert Edeson, noted American stage and screen star, is featured in the production with Mr. Schildkraut and Miss de Putti. Mr. Schildkraut has the role of a roue and gambler who falls in love with a peasant girl, portrayed by Miss de Putti. Their love romance is broken, and when a nobleman offers to marry the girl, she accepts. His relations seek to break off the match by employing Paul Kurt (Schildkraut) to compromise her. When he learns the truth, he double-crosses his employers and wins the girl for himself. The action of the story is swift and dramatic. The picture is the screen version of Lajos Biro's play, "The Highwayman," in which Mr. Schildkraut starred for many months in New York and Chicago. It was directed by Nils Olaf Christander. Charles Gerrard, Eulalie Jensen, George Rechin and William Bakewell are in the supporting cast.

STYLE EDICTS
Paris, Feb. 20.—Paris is putting lace on the smart afternoon frocks, giving them a delightful feminine touch which is quite welcome after the reign of masculine modes. Sometimes only the merest trifle is used but if it is beautiful lace, as it should be, and put on in the correct manner, the result spells satisfaction. Brialux makes three small motifs of ecru lace on a black tulle ground form a rounded yoke below the round neck of a charming black crepe satin frock. And the sleeves have elbow-deep flaring very discreet, and at the same time, cuffs of this ecru lace which is very elegant. There is also a floating panel of the lace falling below the hem-line. Lace ruffled cuffs or lace ruffled collars are also smart and dainty. The laces are invariably delicate and fine patterns and go far toward refreshing an old frock. Crepe georgette dance frocks are prettier than ever with lace flourishes. One in mulberry shade has a bloused waist with trimming in a round collar of ecru lace and an ecru flower on the shoulder. The upper tiers of the shirred georgette skirt have curved ruffles of the lace at the front and back and the lower ones have it at the sides. Little lace jackets make very elegant frocks of plain ones. They are cut like a dinner jacket, fasten with one button at the waistline and can be removed at will. Cheruit is showing one in brown lace with a bronze thread running through the pattern.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

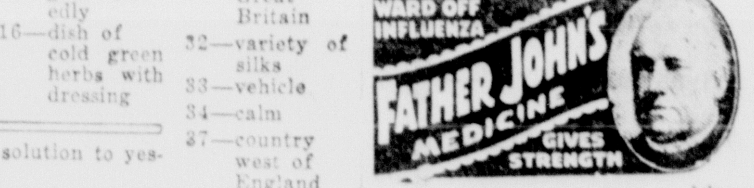

Keeping the cookie jar filled is quite a task where there are lots of children and neighbors. Careful baking means much in the success of cookie making—a steady even oven not too hot, an eye on the clock, and in most cases thoroughly buttered pans.
Lemon Cookies
Beat the yolks of six eggs and a small cupful of butter to a cream. Add slowly three cupfuls of sugar and a teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Beat well. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and a half cupful of sifted flour to make a soft dough. Roll out thin on a floured board and cut in desired shapes; then bake in a buttered pan in a quick oven. As soon as the cookies are taken from the oven, dust them with a little granulated sugar.
Company Jumbles
These are rather too rich for every day use but are nice for company. Beat to a cream a pound of butter and a half pound of sugar. When creamed add four beaten fresh eggs and a tablespoonful of rose flavoring. Add a grating of nutmeg and gradually sift in three-quarters of a pound of flour, beating well. Lay a paper on the baking sheet and dust it with sugar. Roll the dough thin and cut the jumbles with a round cutter having a small circular center which will cut like doughnuts. Lay on the sugared paper and bake in a moderate oven a delicate brown. When done dust with powdered sugar.
Dainty Molasses Wafers
Put into a saucepan a cupful of molasses and a cupful each of butter and sugar. Bring to boiling point

COURT NEWS

Ordered to Pay Alimony
During recess periods during the trial of S. A. Lengel of Canton, Judge W. F. Lones has little if any time to himself. Counsel interested in other pending cases are anxious to obtain orders, and as soon as a recess has been declared during any day of the Lengel case a crowd of attorneys is to be seen standing in front of the court seeking this or that character of special order.
In the divorce case of Lena Rich, against her husband, Henry Rich, and others, the court has ordered the defendant to pay his wife $50 as special alimony within the next four weeks.
A similar entry has been made in the divorce case of Clara E. Resatka against Joseph Resatka. Payments of the special alimony to be supplemented in this case also to the payment of $15 each two weeks for the support of a minor child.
Myron J. Kegg, defendant in a divorce action filed against him recently by his wife, Mary M. Kegg, has also been ordered to pay his wife $50 within four weeks.
A like order has been entered in the divorce case now pending between Mary M. Senior against her husband, Thomas Senior.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Here's a new recipe for your electric waffle iron. Corn waffles served with grilled bacon or ham make an appetizing combination for luncheon or supper. Honey or syrup should accompany the waffles.
Corn Waffles
1 1/2 cups flour 2 eggs 1 cup milk
4 teaspoons baking powder 6 tablespoons shortening
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 small can corn, drained
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Separate eggs adding yolks to milk. Combine with dry ingredients and mix well. Add melted shortening and corn. Fold in the egg whites which have been beaten stiff. Serve with ham or bacon broiled on electric grill or table stove.
(Fruit or nuts may be substituted for the corn in this recipe. If the fruit is tart, add sugar enough to sweeten.)

19 DOG-MUSHERS ARE OFF TODAY: WOMAN IN RACE

Quebec, Feb. 20.—Nineteen dog-mushers, including the first woman dog-sled racer to compete in Canada, will start in the eastern international dog-sled derby, which opens here today. The woman in question is the famous Mrs. E. P. Hively, who has trained for several years in New England's shorter races for this 120-mile classic.

The race will last through today, tomorrow and Wednesday, each team traversing 40 miles daily. The ruling favorites are the 25-year-old Emile St. Godard, winner in 1925 and also last year, and Leonard Seppala, 52-year-old hero of the serum dash in Alaska, who finished second last year.

St. Godard, having twice before won the Quebec derby, will permanently possess the gold cup if he wins this time. The cash prizes offered this year total $2,200, of which $1,000 goes to the winner, $400 to second place, $300 to third place, $200 to fourth, and lesser prizes to the trailers.

PLANE DELAYED, WEDDING WAITS

Student, Bride's Brother, Arrives At Alliance Four Hours Late

Alliance, Feb. 20.—A wedding party of 30 was kept waiting for four hours here Friday night when an airplane carrying the bride's brother and two companions was forced down three times enroute to Alliance from Madison, Wis.

Lee Koehler, Walter Gibson of Akron, and David Bell of Virginia, all students at the University of Wisconsin, started out Friday in a machine piloted by Howard Mosey of Madison. They planned to arrive in ample time for the wedding of Miss Helen Koehler and Lynn Hawkins, set for 6:30 p. m.

The plane encountered severe storms and was forced to land the third time at Solon, O. The passengers abandoned the machine there and completed the journey by automobile and street car.

In the meantime, the party notified by telephone of the plane's delay, went ahead with the wedding dinner and deferred the ceremony. It was nearly 11 p. m. when Koehler and his friends arrived. The ceremony was read by Rev. W. W. Dietrich of First Methodist church Alliance.

The bride is the daughter of Atty. H. C. Koehler of Alliance. Hawkins is a graduate of Mount Union college. His home is in Berlin Center.

The Wisconsin students planned to return to Madison in their plane.

Very much out of the ordinary as radio programs go, will be the leap year party over the Columbia System Wednesday evening Feb. 29.

A special invitation is being tendered to all maiden ladies and misses while married folks will of course not be excluded.

Columbia recording artists participating will all be of masculine persuasion, and willing to listen to reason.

The Columbia program this Wednesday will comprise selections from 13 famous light operas.

Followers of duplicate bridge games broadcast through WTAM will be interested in a change of schedule from Thursday at 9 p. m. to Wednesday at 7:30. This has resulted from discontinuance of the Blue Room broadcast.

The current week's game is to be played by members of the Akron Interclub League and a team representing the Cleveland Whist club.

Rendering the Mendelssohn concerto in E minor in its entirety, Toscha Seidel, violinist, will be heard in the Maxwell House Coffee hour of Thursday night, over the Blue Network. Nathaniel Shilkret will conduct the concert orchestra.

WHK announces the return of the Mono-Motor Oil Twins to its microphone on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 10.

STATE HIGHWAY TO BE EXTENDED

During the recent visit of George F. Schlessinger, director of state highways, to this county, it was made known that an extended section of the Cincinnati-Ashland rd., or Intercounty Highway No. 7, would soon be undertaken between Shady-side and Pipe Creek in Belmont county. This highway passes through Columbiana county and the highway between Wellsville and East Liverpool is a part of the route.

Two bridges were built on this section of the highway last year, but lack of funds halted excavation late last year.

This new road will tap a rich agricultural and mining section in the Ohio Valley, and when the road is completed there will be an improved highway between Cincinnati and East Liverpool.

OUR washing process calls for from nine to twelve changes of water—over 600 gallons in all! Every few minutes we change the soap baths and rinses—adding new rain-soft water that is fresh and pure—until the final rinse is drawn off crystal clear. Contrast this to the methods of the average laundress who strives for sanitation with but four water changes! Then you'll appreciate the superior service we can give you—if you'll only give us a call.
